Faculty Comment:

All above goals and targets were met since I taught CCEN 497, CCEN 498, CCEN 610/784 and CCEN 477 (x2) in Spring 2025, CCEN 477 in Summer 2025 and CCEN 497, CCEN 498, CCEN 610/784, CCEN 742, CCEN 703 in Fall 2025. I also became the CCMS SDP Coordinator besides CIE.

Chair Comment:

Dr Paschalis taught (3 courses) a mix of graduate and undergraduate courses. In addition, he coordinated SDP1/2. His teaching contribution met expectations

Chair Review	Mohammad (Chair, Computer and Information Engineering)	Send to Faculty for Endorsement	Monday, March 16, 2026 6:31 PM	) Thank you for your flexibility. I agree with Dr Paschalis regarding the service he is providing to the department. As noted in my comments, I would appreciate it if Dr. Paschalis could respond to inquiries from students and colleagues in a timely manner.
Faculty Endorsement	Paschalis Sofotasios	Send back to Chair	Sunday, March 15, 2026 11:29 PM	Thanks for all comments. Based on the indicated goals, the 2025 accomplishments are "upper meet expectations" both in teaching and service. If SDP 2 (CCEn 498) for Spring 2025 and Fall 2025 is counted towards service (this course can be counted as teaching or service in all departments) then a solid "meet expectations" is achieved based on the goals for teaching and a solid "exceed expectations" for service. I am perfectly aware that all CIE colleagues are heavily busy in terms of service and that the number of "exceed expectations" is limited. So, since I do not know if I have contributed more than them, I selected "meet expectations" in the first place. However, I leave the final decision on this to my Chair's discretion now that all evaluations/interviews are in the final stage and there must be a better picture on whether I deserve "exceed expectations" in service compared to my colleagues, especially if SDP 2 is counted as service. Thanks
